GEORGE H. GOREON WAS PAID $1,600 BY STEPHENSON IS EDMONDS' TESTIMONY TODAY

La Crosse Lawyer Dispensed Large Sum for Ike

PAID PAPERS A LUMP SUM

Advertising Was Not Paid For At Card Rates.

LEFT IT TO THE PUBLISHERS

Manager Testifies He Trusted Them To Give Candidate a Run For His Money.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—Mr. Sackett's statement as to how he spent $98,000 to "carry" the state for Senator Stephenson included a single item of $1,600 to George H. Gordon, of La Crosse. Mr. Gordon is a well known corporation lawyer of that city. The cross-examination had not reached the point as to what this money was spent for up to 3:30 this afternoon.

Regarding the way advertising was paid for, Mr. Edmonds today testified that no specific space rate was paid, but that a lump sum was given to the publisher and he was expected to give a fair return for the money in advertising. A large amount of display advertising was published for Stephenson in La Crosse, and according to this statement the publisher of the papers that ran it there did not sell their space in the usual way, but gave what they considered a "fair return" for the money. This might be partly in editorial matter, according to the judgment of the publisher.

Edmonds testified that L. B. Cox, former assemblyman, of Onalaska, was paid $100 for "organization," but that no report as to its disposition was rendered. He is said to be prepared to testify further that George H. Gordon made no report as to what he did with the $1,600 he received.

Edmonds contradicted Mr. Sackett's testimony to the effect that Edmonds had given Assemblyman Reynolds $100. Reynolds has admitted having received $180 from some source out of the Stephenson fund, and it probably came direct from the senator.

Regarding $2,500 given State Game Warden Stone, Edmonds testified he did not know what it was given for. Senator Stephenson had told him it had been arranged that Stone should have some money and Stone put the figure at $2,500, which was met. Stone said it was for "organizing."

Edmonds declared that it was not his custom to hire men running for office themselves, but he did it in two cases. One was the case of Assemblyman Kents, of Sheboygan, who was in the billposting business, and the money was given him for posting bills. Another was the case of a railroad man named Schauer, of Oconto, who was paid money for talking politics for Stephenson to railroad men.

Ex-City Attorney John T. Kelley, of Milwaukee, was paid $500 for salary and expenses for making speeches in various places for Stephenson.

Ex-Senator McGillivray, of Black River Falls, was

IKE WILL IGNORE RESULT OF PROBE

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—Isaac Stephenson proposes to go to the senate regardless of the outcome of the investigation. No matter whether fraud is proved or not, he will attempt to secure a certificate of membership by taking his case to the senate committee on elections at Washington, and to that end he has retained a "celebrated eastern lawyer," probably John C. Spooner, to plead his case before the committee.

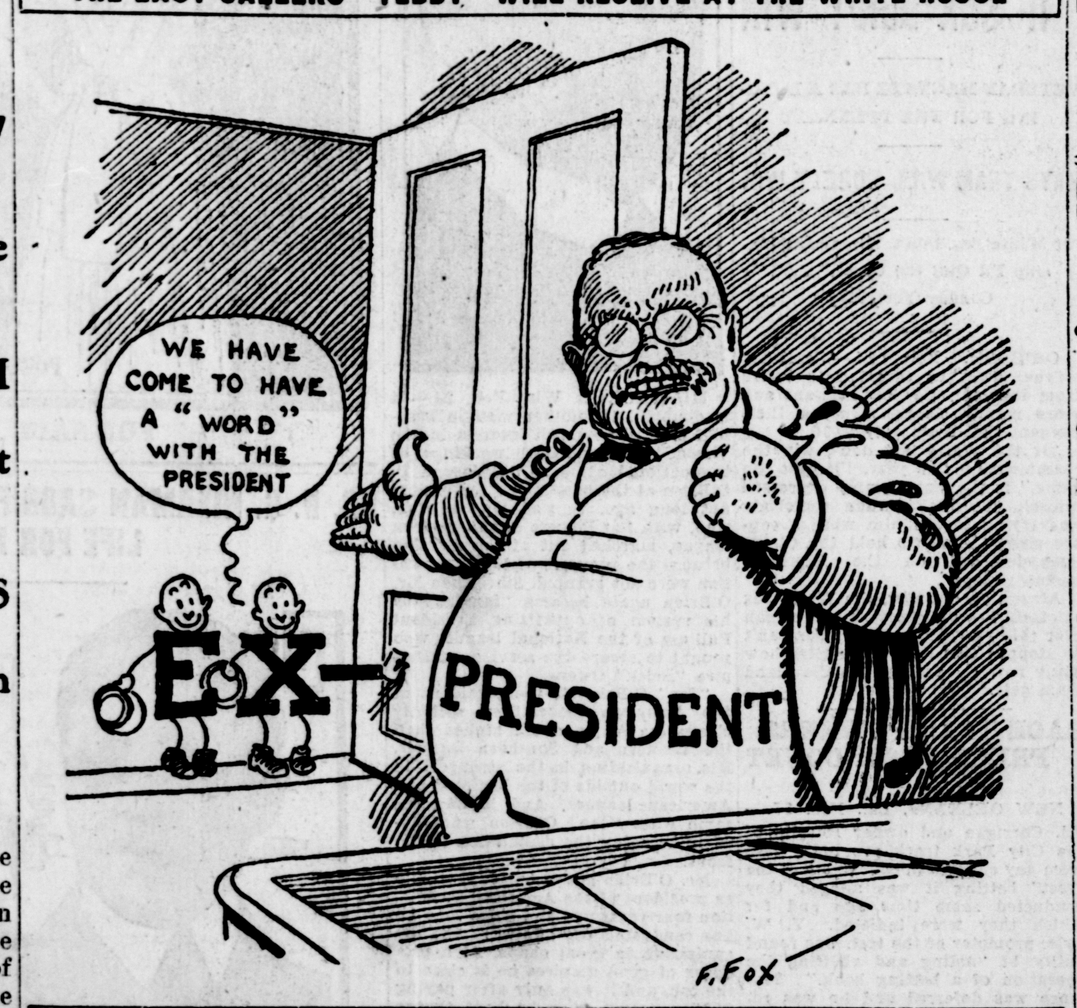

While not only the Wisconsin legislature, but all the people throughout the country have been waiting impatiently for result of investigation, Senator Stephenson thinking that his entry into the highest administrative body would depend in part upon the committee's report the aged senator's lawyers all the time have held documents which in their opinion will make the Marinette multimillionaire a member of the body just as soon as the senate committee on elections can pass upon the case.

Since Feb. 1 there have been in the hands of Mr. Stephenson's attorneys certified copies of the journals of the Wisconsin assembly and senate, setting forth the separate ballots on United States senator. A representative of the Milwaukee law firm of Carry, Upham & Black got the certified copies and presumably they have been sent east to the attorney who will speak on Stephenson's behalf before the United States senate committee on elections.

Incidentally it has become known that Mr. Stephenson's attorney on Feb. 1 was not content with one certified copy of each of the journals of the chief clerks, but requested and got three thousand, indicating that they have been sent to congressmen, senators and others at Washington. Stephenson's chief chief exhibits are:

Journals showing that Stephenson on Jan. 26 got 12 votes in the senate with 16 members voting "Present," and 60 in the assembly, the total representing a majority of those voting by name, but a minority of those voting by name and "present" combined.

FORMER LA CROSSE MAN MURDERED

BODY FOUND IN DRAINAGE CANAL TODAY

RELATIVES RESIDE HERE

John K. Kuranz of Jackson Street Had Not Heard of Death And is Now Investigating

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—Body of Frank Leksa, formerly of La Crosse who disappeared Nov. 17, was found in drainage canal at Willow Springs yesterday. His wife believes he was robbed and murdered and thrown into the river. Police, relatives and lodge members searched long for him but without avail. He was in the milk business.

The Frank Leska was well known in this city about 10 years ago, when he left for Chicago, where he has been engaged in the confectionary business While Leska, who is a brother-in-law of John K. Kuranz, 920 Jackson street, was in the city he resided at 1420 south Tenth street, which property he still owns.

During his residence in the city Leska worked at the Listman mill and later was a janitor at the Bohemian Catholic school.

When Mr. Kuranz was seen by a reporter today he stated that his brother-in-law was in Chicago and that he was engaged in the milk business. He had not heard from him since last fall when he disappeared and there is but little doubt but what the murdered man is his relative.

The other relatives in Chicago were wired but up to the time of going to press no reply had been received which could throw any light on the matter.

WAR SECRETARIES WILL BE SUPREME

SPECIAL MESSAGE TODAY ON NAVAL ORGANIZATION

PLAN TO PREPARE FOR WAR

That's What the Organization of the Navy Department Amounts to Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—Acting upon the report of the commission recently appointed by him to recommend a plan for the reorganization of the navy department, President Roosevelt today sent a special message to congress announcing the appointment of the following joint commission of naval and army officers to deal with the question of number and location of navy yards:

Rear Admiral A. T. Mahan, U. S. N., retired, chairman; Rear Adl. Chas. S. Sperry, U. S. N.; Rear Adl. Richard Wainright, U. S. N.; Captain C. McR. Winslow, U. S. N.; Maj. Gen. Franklin Bell, U. S. A.; Chief of staff; Brig. Gen. W. W. Witherspoon, U. S. A., president army war college, and Brig. Gen. W. L. Marshall, U. S. A., chief of engineers.

In sending this report the president says a mong other things:

"The whole object of the organization of the navy department is to erect machinery which will in time of peace prepare for war; and such, no less, is the whole obpect of the war department. All the administration machinery of the two departments should be considered from this standpoint. The two secretaries should be supreme, but they should have the best and most responsible military advice.

The report of the naval committee favors centralization of the powers in the secretary of the navy, with the creation of an advisory board to furnish him with advice as to military operations and another board to supervise the technical branch of the

SEX SEGREGATION GIVEN ANOTHER RAP

BILL PERMITS WOMEN TO ATTEND ALL CLASSES

PURTELL MAY BE "ABOLISHED"

Blaine Introduces Bill; Rap is Taken at the Trust companies at Madison Today

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—President Van Hise's view favoring segregation of sexes in the state university in certain classes received a second jolt in the assembly today when the committee on education unanimously reported for passage the Hambrecht bill making it possible for women students to attend any and all classes carried on at the state institution.

The assembly spent an hour this morning arguing the bill for the abolition of the supervisor of assessment in counties. Mr. Roethe presented an amendment making the office optional with the county at the will of the county boards. The bill finally was killed by a vote of 49 to 40 and the county supervisor of assessment will for the time being continue to draw his pay. The matter is not difinitely settled, however, as Senator Hustings introduced a bill in the senate today similar to the one killed by the assemzly, the intend of which is to abolish the office.

To "Abolish" Purtell

Senator Blaine offered a bill to abolish the office of state fire marshal. This office is now held by "Tim" Purtell, who was mentioned yesterday as a recipient of Stephenson's campaign money.

Senator Husting offered a bill for the creation of an income tax.

Blow at Trust Companies

Senator Fairchild introduced an important bill in which a hard blow is taken at trust companies. Its purpose is to prevent these companies

Why Should President Roosevelt Take a 22-Calibre Rifle With Him To Africa?

Here's a mighty good advertising argument from the DesMoines Capital:

"When Roosevelt goes to Africa in March, he expects to hunt big game. He will not take any toy pistols or small bored rifles. He will take the most modern and most effective fighting guns in existence. He knows that to secure big game it is absolutely necessary to use the best weapons. He knows that he can not kill a rhinocerous with a pop gun. In other words, when Roosevelt hunts, he hunts in the best possible way and with all his might. If he were an advertiser, he would use the best paper in each city and use it to the limit. If he ran a retail store in Des Moines, he would be the best advertiser in the city.

"Roosevelt always has his mind on the main chance. Little newspapers do not annoy him. In the age of steam shovels he would not use a spade. In the age of electric drills he would not use a hand drill. In the age of 13-inch guns, he would not use a toy pistol. If he were selling goods, he would make such a showing to those whom he reached, that they would be absolutely convinced that his goods were the only goods in the world to buy. He would know how to discriminate between newspapers. He would know that a newspaper with much the largest circulation was the best advertising medium in a particular city."

There would be more Roosevelts in the business world if there were more men with nerve and confidence, who would not expect to get back $1.00 in trade before 50 cents is spent in advertising.

ENGINEER KILLED WHEN FAST MAIL TRAIN LEAVES TRACKS

FLOODS THREATEN ALONG THE OHIO

CINCINNATI AND INDIANAPOLIS ARE IN PERIL

A 55 FOOT STAGE TONIGHT

Former City Expects It—Union Depot in Latter City to be Out of Commission

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 25.—The Ohio river has passed the flood stage at this city and the cold weather that has set in is all that can prevent a flood as disastrous as the one two years ago it is said.

Interurban cars connecting Cincinnati with river towns east of here have already been cut off by the water.

The stage of the river is now 52 feet. At 55 feet the Union depot will be out of commission. The river is rising two-tenths of an inch an hour. A 55 foot stage is expected at nightfall. Factories in the bottoms have already been closed down because of water entering cellars, putting out fires under boilers. Five thousand men will be out of work by Friday morning, it is thought.

Conditions are Bad

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 25.—The flood situation in Indiana this morning is alarming. At East Mount Carmel, in southwestern Indiana, the Wabash river at 8 o'clock reached an 18 foot stage and small houses and barns began floating away. Both White river and the Wabash are booming.

At South Bend the St. Joseph river is on a rampage and at several points along its course, particularly in South Bend and Mishawaka is out of its banks.

At Wabash the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley interurban service has been suspended due to the flooding of the Wabash river. Four feet of water is standing on the tracks.

At Lafayette the Wabash river has flooded the tracks of the traction lines. Livestock was rescued from cakes of ice here. The water has risen over 16 feet.

River Still Rising

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 25.—Ohio river is rising but not as rapidly as yesterday and there is hope now that the water will not go over the "cut off" and that the northeastern section of the city which is the most exposed will not be submerged.

EKERN SCORES IN FAMOUS LIBEL CASE

The decision of Judge Lueck overruling the demurrer of the Arcadia Leader, by its attorney, Frank Winter, to the suit of Herman Ekern for damages resulting from an alleged libel, is tantamount to a decision by the court that libel was done. The defense in its demurrer argued that the publication complained of was not libelous per se. The court did not refer to this point in his decision, but in overruling the demurrer he inferentially rendered the opinion that the article was libelous per se. This determines that phase of the case, and the trial must now proceed to determine whether the allegations made in the alleged libelous article were true, and if untrue, the extent of the damage.

The trouble arose during the primary campaign in which A. T. Twesme defeated ex-Speaker Ekern for the assembly. The article complained of insinuated that Mr. Ekern received $1,000 from Senator Stephenson in exchange for his support of the latter for United States senator in the legislative battle two years ago. Mr. Ekern has attempted to connect ex-Senator John C. Gaveney and Assemblyman Twesme with the article, which is said to have been written by Editor Gert Gipple at the instance of Mr. Twesme.

CRASHED ALONG STANDING FREIGHT

CAB CRUMBLED AND ENGINEER IS MANGLED

FIREMAN JUMPS TO SAFETY

Loose Rail at Kellogg, Minn., is Cause of a Fatal Accident to Train No. 57 This Morning

While rounding a curve at Kellogg, Minn., at the rate of 60 miles an hour engine No. 901 of the All-mail train No. 57, northbound, on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, struck a loose rail and jumping the track scraped along a freight standing on the next track, resulting in the death of Engineer Frank M. Dunn of Minneapolis. The cab was crumbled to kindling and four freight cars were demolished. Fireman James Spearbeck, also of Minneapolis, jumped, and escaped with injuries which are not considered serious.

The train left La Crosse at 2:50 this morning, ten minutes behind, in charge of Conductor M. M. Conley. No. 57 carries only mail cars and maintain terrific speed on government contract to deliver coastbound mails between Chicago and Minneapolis. The train stops only for coal and water.

At Kellogg there is a very sharp curve and the northbound trains run on the inside line of the double tracks. At 5:15 a. m. when 57 arrived at the curve a freight train standing on the outer track on the curve and just as train No. 57 was rounding the curve the engine left the tracks and crashed in the freight demolishing four cars and also tearing the cab of the engine from the boiler and taking Engineer Dunn with it, badly crushing his body. His death was instantaneous. Fireman Spearbeck who jumped just as soon as his engine left the tracks was badly bruised and is in a very serious condition but probably escaped being crushed to death by jumping.

Just as soon as engine No. 901 struck the freight train it tipped over but somehow the following mail cars remained on the tracks and escaped being badly smashed.

Trains Delayed

A wrecking crew was immediately sent from Minneapolis to the scene of the wreck but the River division will probably be tied up until this evening as both tracks are badly blockaded.

All trains will be run as far as Winona on the Milwaukee tracks and from that place the trains will be run on the Burlington tracks to the Twin Cities.

Engineer Frank Dunn is well known in the local railroad circles and has been an engineer on the Milwaukee road since 1854. It is stated that he has had many miraculous escapes during his railroad career.

Stock Train Wrecked

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The second section of a Burlington stock train crashed into the rear of the first section here today and Chas. Curtis, a switchman, was instantly killed and engineer J. V. Johnson seriously injured. A score of wild steers were released from their cars and roamed over the South Side for hours.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

AT THE BIJOU

The Al Cameron Co. of six people in "A Story Told in Song," is making a decided hit at the Bijou this week and lovers of the best in music should avail themselves of the opportunity presented them. It would be difficult to say which is the most important the sketch or the interpreters in the delightful bit of comedy written for Dunbar and Fisher, by Mr. Harry Sheldon. Mr. Sheldon has written some very catchy skits, but none better than the one presented here by the above clever team. Mis Marie Clarke, the London Music Hall artist, has firmly established herself in popular favor with Bijou patrons. Miss Marie has cultivated the faculty of dressing herself to bring the glorious tint of her hair with greater effect. Kelter's work on the bounding wire is always appreciated as one of the best novelty acts seen here.

All optical authorities agree in advising glasses for children who have optical defects. There are some objections of course, but thoughtful comparison of the advantages and disadvantages produces overwhelming evidence in support of the glasses.

WILLIE HOPPE IS BIG ATTRACTION

CHAMPION BILLIARD PLAYER DELIGHTS THE CROWD

BEATS SCHWEIZER 400 TO 72

La Crosse Enthusiasts Have Rare Privilege Which is Well Appreciat by Good Sized Crowd ..

About 200 La Crosse billiard enthusiasts witnessed the performance of Willie Hoppe world's champion, at the La Crosse theater last evening. The event was a match between Hoppe and Charles Schweizer of La Crosse. The champion played 400 to the local expert's 150. While not displaying his best form, Hoppe made some remarkable shots during the contest. His touch was delicate and easy, and the balls seemed at his command every moment of the game.

After the exhibition had been finished Mr. Hoppe stated that he had not been able to play in first class form owing to the fact that he was unused to a small sized table as all of his practicing and playing is done on the larger table. He also asserted that the cushions were not dry enough for the most accurate work. Despite all of the handicaps the champion showed that he had the game at his finger tips, executing marvellous masse shots and driving the balls with a nicety that seemed beyond human power.

Originally the game with Mr. Schweizer was to have been 300 to 150 but Hoppe graciously consented to increase his total 100 points and he made his string in 14 innings. His high run was 72. The score.

Hoppe—0, 72, 0, 0, 67, 53, 0, 31, 1, 40, 3, 51, 71, 11—400. High run 72; average, 28½.

Schweizer—1, 11, 2, 1, 7, 5, 1, 32, 7, 0, 7, 2, 14—90. High run, 32; average, 7.

After the match the cue experts played a three cushion carrom game Hoppe winning by a score of 15 to 1. After the game the champion interested the spectators by making a few exhibition shots. Some of these shots which he executed with the utmost ease were wonderful and received a hearty applause from the spectators.

Hoppe left today for Omaha where he will give an exhibition in his tour of the country.

NEW YORK PUGILIST WINS IN EIGHTH

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 25.—Local sports were somewhat disappointed last night at the unsatisfactorry ending of the bout between Harry Cobb of this city and Charley Kennedy, the New York lightweight, which was scheduled to go eight rounds but which ended in the sevnth when the referee called a foul on Kennedy and awarded the decision to the local boy.

The mill was held across the river at the Windsor A. C. During most of the contest neither had much advantage. Kennedy showed that he had a good punch, and called it into play in the first round to upset Cobb. After that Cobb kept away from it.

THOMAS AND KELLY TO MEET TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—With the winner in line to meet the champion, Stanley Ketchel, much interest centers in the fight tonight between Joe Thomas and Hugo Kelly. It is predicted that the fight will be a fast one and many look for a knockout before the ten rounds are finished. Each has a good punch in either hand and it is only a question of mixing it up to see the finish before the limit.

COMISKEY MAY QUIT IF SOX DON'T WIN

VETERAN MAGNATE HAS A LONGING FOR THE PPENNANT

SAYS TEAM WILL SURELY WIN

"If White Sox Don't Win Championship I'll Quit the Game," Said Commy Yesterday

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Comiskey is the latest to threaten to retire from baseball. He doesn't want any more money, though. Just a little pennant that costs only $100.

"If the White Sox don't win the championship this year, I'll quit the game," is the way Commy expressed himself yesterday when somebody was trying to tell him what a copper riveted strangle hold the Cleveland club had on the American league pennant.

Always an optimist, the White Sox chieftain has pennantsitis worse than ever this year. He says the Sox can't be stopped this time, no matter how many new Cy Youngs the Cleveland team gets.

RACE TRACK OWNERS FREED FROM COURT

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 25.—Ed. Corrigan and owner Heaslip of the City Park track are today free from any charges in connection of the "test" betting it was alleged they conducted some time ago and for which they were indicted. Y. W. Lyle, promoter of the test, was found guilty of "aiding and abetting the operation of a betting book." Sentence was deferred and he was released on bond. The district attorney expressed the opinion that Heaslip was innocent of any collusion in the test race but stated that he quashed the Corrigan charges because he could not make a case against the turfman, and not because he thought him innocent. This statement was ruled out by the court.

SKATING EVENTS DECIDED TONIGHT

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. p5.—Ten of the 17 events scheduled for the figure skating international championship are to be decided at the Elyseum rink tonight. Arthur Williams of Newark, Ohio, has a good lead. Williams last night won five of the seven events. Dr. Wyncock, the Salt Lake City Mormon, tok the other two. Dunn, a veteran of 55 years, finished second in several other contests, so the point score now stands: Williams, 23; Wyncock, 24; Dunn, 21; Maloney, 19; Ely, 9.

Headache For Years

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills on hand all the time, and would not think of taking a journey without them, no matter how short a distance I am going. I have a sister that has had terrible headaches for years, and I coaxed her to try them and they helped her so much, she now keeps them by her all the time. From my own experience I cannot praise them enough."

MRS. LOU M. CHURCHILL, 63 High st., Penacook, N. H.

Many persons have headache after any little excitement or exertion. They cannot attend church, lectures, entertainments, or ride on trains without suffering. Those who suffer in this way should try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They give almost instant relief without leaving any disagreeable after-effects, as they do not derange the stomach or bowels; just a pleasurable sense of relief follows their use. Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

O'BRIEN INTERESTED THE FANS GREATLY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 24.—It is doubtful if another man in baseball created so much interest in the "inside" and political workings of the national game as did Joseph D. O'Brien at the meeting of the minors not long ago. It was Mr. O'Brien, who, with Pat Powers of the Eastern league, marched out of the meeting because the requests of his organization were not granted. Since then Mr. O'Brien again became "famous" by his system of outwitting President Pulliam of the National league, who sought to secure the services of Umpire "Brick" Owens.

"Joe" O'Brien is the president of the American association, recently classed as AA, a notch higher than the Western and Southern leagues. His organization is the strongest in the world outside of the National and American leagues. And it was the same little "Joe" O'Brien who aided in bringing the association to the front.

Mr. O'Brien succeeded J. E. Grillo as president af the American association four years ago and since then he has conducted the affairs of the organization in great shape. As a producer of good umpires he is close to the top, and it was only after paying $525 a month that he kept Owens from going to the National league. Umpires Klem, Kerin and Kane are American association umpire graduates in the big leagues.

FLEET CREWS TO GET SHORE LEAVE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—Rear Admiral Arnold will be withdrawn from the command of the third squadron of the Atlantic fleet and be given shore duty as soon as the ships have returned from their target practice at Guatanamo, according to a statement made by Secretary Newberry today. There are no plans at present to disturb the flag commands of the battleship fleet.

The third squadron will leave within a few days for Guatanamo. The battleships New Hampshire, Mississippi and Idaho will be added to the Atlantic beet to take the places of the Kentucky, Gearsage and Illinois, which will be docked for extensive repairs to their boilers.

Eight of the battleships of the Atlantic fleet are to remain in Hampton roads until after March 4 to send detachments of enlisted men to participate in the inaugural parade. The other eight battleships will go to their home ports to give officers and men shore leave. The battleship Maine of the third squadron, upon the merging of the later with the battleship peet, will also be docked for overhauling and extensive repairs to her boilers.

The entire feet will reassemble in Hampton Roads about May 15, when it will sail for Guatanamo for target practice.

Rear Admiral Sperry has been ordered to Washington next Saturday for a conferencew ith the secretary of the navy and the general board on fleet matters. He will probably appear also before President Roosevelt's naval committee.

PHONES AND WIND MILL DAMAGED

Telephone poles snapped off, wires down, a windmill at the Poor Farm destroyed are evidences that a severe storm raged outside of the city since the last heavy snow fall. All communications with the poor farm and other places to the east of the city are cut off and it was not found out until yesterday how severe the storm had been.

Of all the telephone poles between the Green Bay railroad tracks and the poor farm, only two remain standing. The others have been snapped off, some at the base, some in the middle and others just under the cross arms, by the high wind.

The wind mill at the poor farm was blown down entailing a loss of about $100. As a windmill is very essential here, immediate action has been taken to replace it.

It is better to fight and run away than it is to stick it out and pay a fine.

DR. H. G. NIERMAN SACRIFICES LIFE FOR MEDICAL EXPERIMENT

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 22.—Dr. H. G. Nierman of this city made a martyr of himself in order that he might successfully demonstrate that by cutting out over five feet of the lower bowel in the human body, the shortest route to perfect health might be obtained.

Surgeons the world over agree that our digestive organs need to be brought up to date. In short, the lower or big part of the bowel was designed to meet the requirements of our savage state, when our feed was of uncertain supply, coarse and consisting largely of waste material. Operations for the removal of the appendix are of common occurrence but never has an attempt been made to remove the lower bowel, the real breeding place of all the poisonous germs.

Eminent surgeons at the National Tuberculosis congress in Washington, where the theory was first propounded by Dr. Nierman, looked askance, but so firm was he in his belief that the operation could be successfully performed that he decided to have it performed on himself.

Lying on the operating table at St. Joseph's hospital in this city, and after he had given minute instructions to the group of surgeons who were to make the incision and unite the small intestine on the left side with the descending colon (large intestine) at the point where they come most closely in contact, Dr. Nierman underwent the first operation of the kind known in the history of surgery.

Remarkable enough, world-wide attention was attracted when it was announced that the operation was a success, and it was everywhere conceded that a new epoch in surgery had been begun. Well on the road to recovery, Dr. Nierman, was being showered with congratulations, but at this juncture peritonitis set in and death took place shortly afterward. However, he had demonstrated his theory and surgeons agree that operations of a like nature will be as common as those for appendicitis before long.

How to Test a Newspaper Advertisement

Is it Timely?

Test No. 3

Of a series of Ten tests which an advertiser should apply to every advertisement before he publishes it.

A storekeeper who permits dust and cobwebs to litter his store windows is no more wasteful than he who uses space in a live, progressive newspaper merely to repeat a few hackneyed phrases in connection with his name and address.

The newspaper is the live merchant's most valuable display window. In it he should take care to exhibit by pictures and word painting his newest and most attractive stock.

There are always plenty of things that every merchant can utilize to create and further the impression that he is strictly up-to-date; one of his most valuable assets.

Timely advertising inspires confidence in the readers of a newspaper that the merchant is wide awake and ready to meet all emergencies.

It is not uncommon to see in provincial newspapers such absurd instances of untimeliness and public announcements of unprogressiveness as Ice Cream Freezers advertised in January or Heating Stoves in July.

Yet to be timely does not necessarily mean to make definite plans on the spur of the moment. Successful general advertisers forecast conditions, according to the seasons of the year and the general trend of events, and make plans months ahead.

The retailer should act on the same lines.

Such a procedure yields much more satisfactory results than a patch-work campaign, constructed from day to day in hit-or-miss fashion.

Should the merchant wish to take advantage of some unusual event, it is very easy to substitute a piece of timely copy in harmony with what has appeared and what is to follow.

Timeliness involves an accurate insight into the trend of public opinion. But the public mind is fickle and in taking advantage of prevalent conditions, the unnecessary incurring of prejudice must be guarded against.

See if your advertisement is in harmony with the times, the season and the day.

That is what Senator Isaac Stephenson's statement of his expenses in the late lamented senatorial primary shows for La Crosse county, as testified to by Mr. Sackett of the Stephenson cohorts. The statement says nothing of who got the money, or how it was divided, or for what it was paid. The law says the disposition of every sum of $5 or more shall be described in the statement, but the Stephenson statement omits this embarrassing formality.

Where did this money go? Can any of the gentlemen who have been chairmen of the county committees of the various parties remember any occasion upon which a county committee in a national campaign had half this sum to spend all told for its entire ticket from president to coroner? If any of these chairmen and ex-chairmen had had that sum of money, can they figure out how they could have spent it legitimately in La Crosse county?

What was this money paid out for? What was there in La Crosse county for which Mr. Stephenson could have paid out $2,066 legitimately? W. H. Hatton carried the county against Stephenson and his $2,066, and we doubt that Mr. Hatton spent a dollar in La Crosse county directly. The literature he sent into the county, including postage, probably cost him not to exceed $25. In what manner, and to whom, did "Uncle Ike" Stephenson pay this $2,066 in La Crosse county?

Perhaps Mr. Gelatt, who agrees with the Milwaukee Sentinel that the senatorial investigation is an "amusin' little cuss," might be able to throw some light upon the subject. Indeed, it is possible that in the even tenor of its way the investigating committee may ask Mr. Gelatt to tell, under oath, what he knows about this amazing expenditure of money in this splendid county that vindicates itself by refusing to sell out its vote for $2,066.

Anyway, these items of expense in La Crosse county, totalling $2,066, serve as ample explanation of Mr. Gelatt's heated declaration that the investigation of Stephenson's expenses is an outrage; it may serve to illuminate his opinion that in voting for a probe of the primary affair Senator Thomas Morris and Assemblyman J. E. McConnell have betrayed their constituents.

MORRIS FOR ACTION

The frank and vigorous speech of Senator Thomas Morris urging the senatorial investigating committee to refrain from further squabbling over inessentials, such as the question of whether Senator Blaine insulted the committee or whether the committee is a court or a grand jury, may be of interest in La Crosse county as showing that its member of the upper house is in favor of vigorously pursuing the investigation, avoiding trivial discussions, and putting in the time of members as the tarpayers pay them to put it in. Mr. Morris spoke as follows:

"I dislike very much," said Senator Morris, "to take up the time of this committee and delay unnecessarily the proceedings of this investigation. We all know that under the resolution we must make a report by March 15. One week has already gone and we have spent a considerable amount of time in sparring back and forth here all day—Friday, for instance, and up to this time today. I want to first say that I mean no reflection upon anybody and I hope that this statement will be taken at its face value. The fact is, however, as we all know, that from the very inception of this investigation the newspapers have stated that this committee was packed along certain lines; that the senate members of the committee were in favor of a thorough and searching probe and would abide by the result as the evidence showed corruption or not. It has also been common talk that the assembly members of this committee were selected for the purpose of whitewashing Senator Stephenson.

"I hope that what I say will be taken at its face value. I am not saying that is true, I do say, however, that if we spend much more time sparring back and forth in delay of these proceedings and in quibbling about the rules of procedure and as to whether we are a court or not—if we spend much more time in that way, I should say that any citizen of the state would have the right to make the charges that Senator Blaine made this morning. He would at least be representing, it seems to me, a part of the public mind. Now I hope that this thing will be stopped here. I hope we will be able to proceed with Mr. Blaine's testimony. We vote on United States senator at 12 o'clock today. I have heard that these proceedings were being delayed and that the privilege is being used to stampede certain members to vote for Stephenson this morning. I want to say this: We cannot afford to do the state's business in that way; we cannot afford to do it as members of the legislature; we cannot afford to do it as members of this community, and as citizens of Wisconsin.

"Mr. Blaine said and sort of repeated some of these things this morning. Now are we going to take time to find out whether he has repented or not? Whether he regards the thing as a blunder, practically, or not? Whether same strategic advantage can be obtained or not by standing pat?

"But what has that to do with the investigation of the senatorial primary? Is there a man on this committee—in this room; is there a human being anywhere who will consider for a moment that Mr. Blaine's retraction will throw any light on the manner in which this $100,000 spent by one candidate, $40,000 by another, $30,000 by another and $10,000 of $12,000 by another, was honestly or dishonestly spent; whether the corrupt practices act of Wisconsin has been violated to some extent and vitiates the primary or not?

"Does he think that he is fooling anybody, deceiving anybody, in making the claim? Is it not probable, is it not plain Now I say, I hope that we shall be able to proceed with this work in a calm, dispassionate, intelligent, deliberate way and that this thing will stop right here."

THE OSTRICH HIDES

Early yesterday these items were read from Stephenson's campaign expense statement by Mr. Hackett, before the senatorial probe committee.

"Organizing La Crosse county $1,300."

"Organizing La Crosse county $100."

"Organizing La Crosse county $200."

"Organizing La Crosse county $300."

"Organizing La Crosse, Dunn and Langlade counties $500."

Last night the Leader-Press made no mention of the above items, and this morning The Chronicle disposed of this most interesting bit of evidence as follows:

"In his statement of the expenses by counties it was shown by Mr. Sackett that about $1,900 had been spent for organizing La Crosse AND OTHER COUNTIES. What the other candidates spent in that county has not been given out."

Why does Mr. Gelatt falsify the evidence? Why does he not give the readers of his papers the facts about La Crosse county, the county in which they are most interested? He says $1,900 was spent in organizing "La Crosse and other counties." The evidence shows $1,900 was spent entirely in La Crosse county, and that an additional $500 was divided between La Crosse, Dunn and Langlade counties.

The fight of Assemblyman Ingalls to prevent the probe committee inquiring of witness as to the facts that should, under the law, have been fully set forth in Senator Stephenson's campaign statement, indicates that the Stephenson bosses expect their representatives on the committee to protect him from the laws he is sworn to enforce.

Should Dr. Anderson consent to become a non-partisan candidate for mayor, and should the republicans find some really worthy material for some of the important municipal offices, it is quite within the possibilities that the pay-checks to city hall employes may assume a non-partisan character during the coming two years.

There is a persistent demand from a great, strong body of La Crosse citizens for the re-election of Dr. Anderson as mayor. Its strength is such that it is difficult to perceive how the mayor can evade the call. Should he enter the lists, he will be strongly supported from the stump, and his election seems certain.

The senatorial probe is promising to uncork things that even the Stephenson "katydids" can't stomach. One need not be surprised to see the whole state turn upon this foolish old illiterate and his goldbags before the stench is over.

It is an unfortunate commentary upon our municipal character that issues so big as to project into coming generations are forgotten in a controversy over the regulation, or unleashing, of our municipal vices.

If a republican mayoralty candidate suspected of being sufficiently indecent to make a good race can be found, the spring campaign may develop into an old-time doin's.

The threat of Mr. Gelatt that he will support the entire republican ticket doubtless accounts for the difficulty of the local republicans to find a mayoralty candidate.

Senator Stephenson spent $2,066 in La Crosse county, and received 931 votes. Ergo, it cost Senator Stephenson $2.21 for each vote he got in La Crosse county.

Dr. Friend Suiter is willing to be a good fellow, but he declines (respectfully, with due appreciation of the high honor and all this and that) to be the goat.

GRATEFUL FOR ECZEMA CURE

Any Sufferer Can Write to Robt. Sussman of Toledo, Ohio, for Full Information.

There are undoubtedly many frauds in the testimonials of medical firms—letters written by friends or even employes of the advertiser. But on the other hand, in some cases the testimonials are thoroughly genuine, gladly offered by prominent citizens, who are grateful for the cure.

Such a case is that of Robt. Sussman, a well known furrier of Toledo, Ohio, who for years suffered with a severe case of eczema.

He described his case as almost unendurable. About five years ago he was induced to try the oil of wintergreen compound known as D. D. D. Prescription for eczema sufferers. He has gone out of his way to find sufferers and to tell them of this remedy. He has done this without pay, of course, and without even having been requested to do so by the D. D. D. Company. It was simply the fact that his health, his very life, had been restored that made him so enthusiastic. Mr. Sussman recently wrote a letter offering to write to any eczema sufferer and to describe his case. If any reader of this paper should write Mr. Sussman, we request that self-addressed stamped envelope be enclosed.

D. D. D. Prescription, also D. D. D. Soap, are strongly recommended in La Crosse by Hoeschler Bros.

SPOTLIGHTS

Interest in Alaskan

Fresh, invigorating and novel in its construction, "The Alaskan," by Blethen, Figman and Girard, which John Cort, the well known theatrical manager, has carried through to tremendous success last year, is to be the attraction at La Crosse teater, Sunday, Feb. 28, matinee and night.

This will be the second year of this tuneful optra, with everything tending toward even greater popularity than before, as there have been many changes made in cast and chorus, and in its new edition while retaining much that was so favorably received last season, it will be even more inviting than ever. All the real song hits of the year have been retained, including "Song of the Riffles," "Rainbow and Thistle," "Mother Did" "Naughty Little Lady O," "Arlee" and that masterpiece "My Totem Pole." The present cast includes Edward Martindel, once more seen in the part of "Totem Pole Pete" in which he made a tremendous success last season, "William" Fables, the famous animal impersonater, who again enacts the part of the officious Bear, Forrest Huff, who will sing the part of "Richard Attwater," Lora Leib, who is the "Arlee," Fritzie Von Busing who will be the "Chaperon," Dick Fitzgerald "The Smallberry Strander," Ida Fitzhugh, in the part of the "Wardrobe Woman" and J. Hunter Wilson as "Meadowbrook Blazes."

IMPORTANT COURT DECISIONS

EFFECT OF ADOPTION BY HUSBAND ALONE. The effect of the adoption of a child by a husband without the wife taking any part in the proceedings was the point in Re Carroll's Estate, 68 Atlantic Reporter, 1038. The wife having died, the adopted child claimed an interest in her estate. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania held that the proceedings by the husband created no liability on the part of the wife, and that the claim could not be upheld.

IN THE NATION'S CAPITOL

(From John J. Hannon.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—Although the personnel of the senate will change and practically a new senate will come into office March 4, the committees of the present body are to continue not only through the special session of congress, but until the next regular session which means until next December. The trick by which this was accomplished is contained in a resolution sprung by Senator Aldrich during the temporary absence of Senator La Follette from the floor on Monday. The resolution provides that the committees of the senate as constituted at the end of the present session shall continue to be the committees until the next regular session of congress or their successors are elected.

The old organization evidently had its plans laid and was watching for its opportunity to spring this resolution upon the senate at an opportune moment. No one was let into the secret who was not absolutely trusted by the Aldrich-Hale-Lodge-Gallinger monopoly organization of the senate. Senator Long of Kansas of course was let in. It is because of his close affiliation with this organization that he goes out of the senate on March 4. But he played an important part in turning this trick although his name does not appear in the Record. Senator La Follette was on guard all during the session. He was carefully watching every measure which came up. The senate had passed from the routine morning business, the agricultural bill had gone over for the day and work was progressing upon the calendar which means that unimportant bills to which there is no objection were being considered.

There were several conferences between Aldrich and Foraker, Aldrich and Lodge, Aldrich and Long, Long and Lodge, Gallinger and Aldrich, in fact the whole crowd interchanged confidences. Several cards were sent in to Mr. La Follette to call him from the floor. He sent word to all that he could not see them as he was watching affairs in the senate. Finally a card came from Gilbert E. Roe, of New York. Senator La Follette's

THE AWAKENING OF HARRISBURG

(By J. Horace McFarland, President American Civic Association, ... Secretary Municipal League ... of Harrisburg.)

... (Part V)

Harrisburg had a most inadequate park provision at the inception of this movement, as has before been suggested. Setting aside the unkept and irregular strip of grass along the river front, sometimes edging an unpleasant dump, and the little Capitol Park of sixteen avres, mostly taken up by the buildings of the state administration, Reservoir Park, of less than twenty-five acres, inconveniently situated more than a mile from the center of the city, afforded the only recreation spot. Of playground there were none, save as the ladies of the city had temporarily converted several of the unpleasant school-yards into summer playgrounds were shown to people, contrasted with an orchard view close to one of the schools—but separated from it by a barbed-wire fence—there was no difficulty in noting the desire of all the people for adequate park and playground facilities.

In this connection, some little attention was paid to the crowded streets of the city, to the telegraph poles which line its highways, and to the billboards which sometimes hide beautiful vistas. In one particular case, a billboard of a most offensive character shut out the view of a tract of land proposed in Mr. Manning's plan to be taken as a small park. When the question was asked, "Which do you prefer, the trees on the banks or the billboards on the streets?" there was always a shout of "Trees!"

Attention was also paid to the mutilation of existing trees on the city streets, through the operations of so-called "tree trimmers," who are usually nothing but ignorant butchers. A picture showing one of these butchers in the act of ruining a good tree was most effective, and is a significant commentary on the work thus undertaken to know that one of these men whose living was made ready by ruining tree has recently broken into the public prints with a two-column stream of abuse of the man who called attention to his acts of mutilation, and who, he says, is interfering with his "business."

The lack in Harrisburg of public bathing facilities was touched upon in this campaign, and later, with the result of creating a strong desire for the establishment of public baths.

The need for street paving in Harrisburg required but little discussion, for all were cognizant of it. True, we had one or two paved streets, but the seldom-swept asphalt, thickly coated with mud and filth, had long been lost to view.

When entering this campaign, it had been my personal contention with the Executive Committee that I should have permission to enlarge upon the necessity of parks. My excellent associates were not convinced either of the absolute necessity for parks or of the advisability of pressing the park movement among the people. Declining to do the work upon any other basis than that of giving full importance to the provision of proper outdoor recreation facilities, I was permitted to have my way. The presentation of our park needs to the people soon justified itself absolutely; for in some parts of the city in which little attention could be secured to matters of sewerage, filtration and paving, the appeal of near-by green trees and grassy lawns, located where tired mothers might give their children the recreation due to every American child, was noticeably strong. The park propaganda became a strong element in obtaining favor.

I have mentioned before the possibility of a great natural park, known at the time this movement began as Wetzel's Swamp, and esteemed by most of the citizens of Harrisburg to be a boggy neighborhood, available only as a burial place for deceased domestic animals and as a resort for tramps. Only a few of us knew that this "swamp," inserted, as it were, into the very center of what must be the future city of Harrisburg, was one of the greatest potentialities in America for a superb natural park. Mr. Manning had enthusiastically advocated the including of all of it, so as to provide here a park of over five hundred acres in the city's system. Very little of the land included was used for agricultural purposes, and, at first laughed at, the proposition soon became a most important adjunct to our improvement propaganda. As pictures were shown indicating the beauties of this natura-a park,—with its great trees, grassy roads and pleasant open spaces; with its succession of wild flowers, from the hepatica in earliest spring, through the time of violets, dogwoods, redbuds, irises, marshmellows and other members of the rich flora of Central Pennsylvania, to the close of the blooming season with the witch hazel's defiance of the frost,—a strong desire was evident to possess this land for the good of all. It required little argument to show the advisability of taking as park territory land in which great trees of the oak, maple, tulip, and ash were already matured.

THE FORBIDDEN ROAD

BY MARIA ALBANESI

[Copyrighted 1908.]

Betty had been writing him a number of epistles. It appeared that she required a great many things to go abroad with, and she had already learned to turn to Rupert for the fulfilment of all her wishes. Nothing touched Katherine so much as his attitude to the children; he was, if possible, more tender than before. He adopted a little more serious air, and in every sort of way made it known to all that he was their guardian.

"I was afraid," Mrs. Brenton had said once to the girl—"I was afraid that he might have changed in this, but I ought to have known him better!" Another time she said, "Did I tell you he had refused to take back a single thing he had given her? She told me all this in the first letter she wrote from Italy, and yet even now," Mrs. Brenton in a low tone, "I don't believe she grasps the full meaning of his generosity. After telling me all this, she added that, of course, if it had been any other man than Cuthbert she could not have kept the jewels; but that Cuthbert was his brother, he had a right to share in so much wealth.

"That was not her own suggestion," Katherine had said quickly.

Her thoughts hovered pityingly about Camilla this night, and about the memory of the woman who was just dead.

That year in his mother's house had taught her to know Cuthbert Baynhurst very thoroughly.

His desertion now of his duty, his cowardice and exacting selfishness, were made doubly contemptible, when she remembered his mother's clinging love, her heart-whole devotion, her pride in him.

"He is not worthy to be walked on by Rupert," Katherine determined hotly. And at that very moment some one spoke her name, and, starting violently, she turned to find Rupert Haverford himself standing just behind her chair.

"Do forgive me," he said quickly, realizing how much he had startled her. "Mrs. Brenton sent me to find you. She told me you are always out here at this time."

"I fancied I was quite alone," said the girl nervously; then she added, "Have you been here long Did you motor down?"

He said "Yes."

Their hands had clasped and unclasped.

"I felt I must come down and see you all before you fly away. In particular, I want to speak to you."

"Yes," said Katherine.

"Are you tired?" Haverford asked rather abruptly. "Shall we walk?"

She got up at once.

"It is so delightful out here at this time. I will take you to Betty's garden. There is a rose waiting for you, Mr. Haverford. It was going to be sent by post in a box tomorrow. I don't know that I dare pick it, but may look ot it."

As they passed under the interlacing branches of the trees, he said:

"I thought you would like to know that my mother spoke of you several times. She has bequeathed to you some odds and ends of jewelry which I fancy must have belonged to your mother. I cannot say that she spoke kindly," he said, with half a sigh; "but at least she remembered."

"It grieved me," said Katherine, in a low voice, "to know that she suffered so much."

He sighed.

"At times it was terrible. What stuff some of you women are made of! She had her faults, my poor mother, but she had marvellous qualities. In some ways you remind me of her, only you are not in the least masculine."

When they reached Betty's garden he knelt down and put his lips to the rose.

"Tell her I have been here, that I have left a kiss for her. I won't pick it. Dear little creature, let her send it on, if she wants to."

"But are you going back tonight?"

In her white muslin gown Katherine looked wraith-like, part of the mist which hovered like a white veil over the ground.

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANTON WILES

Down on the Farm

Oh, groom each gentle bossy cow
And crimp old Dobbin's tail;
Pink ribbons tie on milking stols,
And hand paint every pail,
Pa, cowhide boots are obsolete;
Your blue jeans put away.
Farm life now is glorified.
Henceforth out work's mere play.

Come, mother, don your pompadour,
Your merry widow bring.
With some-one's food we'll feed the calves
Down yonder by the spring.
I've pinned an orchid on my coat,
My hat's of modish green.
When cutting hay I now wear gloves—
Hoe 'taters by machine.
Sakes! won't the summer boarders stare
To see how we've progressed!
Boiled dinner served now a la carte,
Tripe all crimped-paper dressed.
Our hired man calls for finger bowls;
I drive my own red car.
The young folks scoff at city life,
Who's wrought this change? T. R.

THE COMPLETE NEWS OF THE NORTH SIDE TODAY

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

No case of contagious blood poison is ever cured until the last particle of the virus has been removed from the circulation. The least taint left in the blood will sooner or later, cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all its hideous and destructive symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper colored splotches, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. No other medicine so surely cures contagious blood poison as S. S. S. It goes down into the blood and steadily and surely drives out every particle of the infection. It absolutely and perfectly purifies the blood, and leaves this vital fluid as fresh, rich and healthy as it was before the destructive virus of contagious blood poison entered the circulation. S. S. S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and other blemishes, the hair stops coming out, the mouth and throat heal and when S. S. S. has cleansed the system of the poison no trace of the disease is left. S. S. S. cures contagious blood poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Book on this disease with suggestions for home treatment, and any medical advice sent free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

UNCLE IKE'S "DETAILED" CAMPAIGN STATEMENT

Following is the "detailed" expense account of the Stephenson campaign, as presented by Roland Sackett, secretary of the Stephenson organization. It is not, in fact, detailed, but merely give lump sums used for various alleged purposes. It does not comply with the law relative to the filing of statements, being deficient in every important detail and really showing nothing as to how much and in what way and through what persons and channels the money affected the election.

The "Books."

As to the manner in which he kept account of the disbursement of moneys, the following exchange between Senator Morris and Mr. Sackett tells the story:

"Did you keep any books of your expenditures?"

"I was very busy and could not keep regular books. I kept memoranda on cards, slips of paper and any way I could."

"Did you keep any account anywhere which will show the amount of money received by you and disbursed by you?"

"I don't think I did, except the memoranda I kept myself."

"I think I drew most of the $98,000 put in there." (The bank.)

"And I understand you to say that you kept no account of that fund?"

"No books. I kept a lot of slips of paper and cards and memoranda. Afterward when I get time now and then I put them on paper with the typewriter, so that I could show Senator Stephenson approximately where the money went to."

The Summary.

The statement opens with the following summary of the manner in which Sackett disposed of "most of" $98,000:

General expense organizing the state	$46,052.29
Milwaukee county organization	11,600.00
Office expenses	4,074.38

EXPOSE HIDERS OF CONTAGIONS

ALDERMAN SLETTEN SEEKS A WAY TO FORCE REPORTS

PEOPLE CONCEAL DISEASES

Davenport Authorities Learn of Case Contracted in Home Here Where City Had no Record

Exposure of people who violate the law by concealing the existence of contagious diseases by the publication of their names, and their prosecution in all cases, is proposed by Alderman Sletten of the north side, who is chairman of the health committee of the city council.

Alderman Sletten's attention has been called to a case in which a family from Davenport, Iowa, was visiting in La Crosse. After their return one of the members of the family came down with the smallpox. They informed the Davenport authorities that they contracted the disease in La Crosse, as they had been visiting at the home of people here who had smallpox. The case referred to here had never been reported to Health Officer Anton Murphy, and it is said the disease was cured up without the aid of a physician, the victim fortunately and merely by good fortune, recovering. There was no fumigation or other steps taken to prevent the spread of the disease with the result that the Davenport and probably other infections occurred.

There are said to be cases on the north side which have not been reported and energetic steps are to be taken at once to uncover all the cases not reported and to punish those who have been concealing the contagion.

NORTH SIDE TO CLING TO CLUB

The North Side members of the Franklin club will probably be given a scare this evening when at the regular meeting when the South side members propose the removal of the Franklin club to the south side. The plan was supposed to have been a secreat among the South side members, but it was discovered and the north siders will be there to prevent the move.

The question which will be debated this evening is: "Resolved that the recent law passed by Congress increasing the salaries of the President, Vice-President, speaker of the house and the Judges of the Supreme court should meet the approval of the people."

Prof. G. Hodgson will lead the affirmative and A. A. Bentley will lead the negative.

SETTLE BASEBALL DOUBTS THIS WEEK

ELLIOTT WILL KNOW SOON ABOUT TWIN CITIES

CANNOT WAIT MUCH LONGER

President of League Says That Other Clubs Must Soon Know What They Must Go Up Against

The baseball situation which has been unsettled for the past month much to the anxiety of the fans will be settled definitely by next Sunday and the cities in the Minnesota-Wisconsin league will know whether or not they will be a member of an 8-club or a 6-club league. They will also be able to put the matter of getting out a schedule into the hands of an expert and get things in shape for next season. Charles Cushman of Milwaukee who got out the W-1 league schedules and who gets out the Three I league schedules will probably be engaged to arrange the dates for the M.-W. league.

John Elliott expects to hear today from Minneapolis in regard to that city getting in on the proposition. If the matter has not been decided definitely the Twin cities will probably be left out for the league cannot afford to wait any longer and the clubs must have some definite knowledge.

It looks at present as if the league will get as early a start as any of the leagues of this size and by the time the training season is open the fans will know about who will be in the line-up of the La Crosse club.

Don Cameron, the local product, who will play with the Oakland team of the Pacific coast league leaves tonight for Omaha where he will join the White Sox special which is speeding on its way to Sunny California where they will commence training immediately.

Roy Eberle the star twirler for the La Crosse team writes John Elliott that he has not signed a contract with Racine and says that as far as he knows there has only been one player in the old La Crosse bunch that has signed up with them, namely Jerry Harmes.

CIRCUIT COURT CLOSES SATURDAY

The circuit court will be adjourned next Saturday when Judge O'Neil leaves for his home in Black River Falls and unless some other judge can be found who will continue the work of the court it will probably be held over until the fall term. As has already been announced, the Trempealeau term of court will be held over until the October term. The jurors will be dismissed subject to call. The cases that remain are all civil cases, all of the criminal cases having been brought up for trial the first part of the session. When the court adjourns Saturday three weeks of work will still remain to be finished.

LAYING THE CORNER-STONE OF THE ALASKAN CABIN

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 22.—When, through the Alaskan blizzard, a dog team comes hurtling driverless into camp, it is a sign to him who sees it that somewhere out in the white death there is someone who needs help to make his fight.

If a malamute rages through the snow, snapping with all the wolf that is in him at the moosehide thongs which whip behind, and those thongs show the quick stroke of the knife, it is word ta the sourdough that the man who wielded the knife needs help, if he is to live.

And when this happens the camp turns out, no matter what the weather, or to what outrages depths the thermometer has sunk, and the first thing is to identify the dog and the next thing is to learn which way his owner went when last he hit the trail, for in Alaska no man takes to the snow without he leaves word behind with a tillicum of the way of his going and of the route by which he will return. Then the sleds are packed and the mushers the off to comb the wastes until the lost is found, if it be possible to find him.

This is the way it was when, four years ago, fresh meat ran out in the Kantishna and Jim Haynes hit it over the divide into the Kushkokwim to get a moose, that the little camp might be saved from scurvy.

It was 50 below, and the death wind was blowing off Mt. McKinley when Haynes mushed his dog team out of camp, but he would take no one with him, for he was going to his own staked moose pasture, which none save himself knew. Other t han that, he was a queer chap in his way, and ever went alone into the wilds with his gun.

It was desperate going; Haynes knew that when he left camp and so did everyone else, but it was a desperate case that was to be met and he was the only one who could meet it.

Although it was no more than 40 miles across the low divide that separated the headwaters of the Kantishna from those of the Kiskokin a week passed and no word was htd from the hunter.

Desperate conditions in camp had become more so and a prolonged diet of salt horse had put several of the able-bodied men of the diggings in their bunks. Haynes had said that four days at the outside would suffice to bring meat in, and until that time he had never broken schedule on a mush.

CAMPBELL BOARD CLOSES ROADWAY

GRAND CROSSING DRIVE TO BE DISCONTINUED

FARMERS WON'T KEEP IT UP

Petition Town Board to Close it and Post Notices and This is the Action Taken

The town board of the town of Campbell, of which William Wolfe is chairman, met last night and upon petition of residents of the township decided to close the road between Grand Crossing and West Salem road. Heretofore this road has been kept up by the farmers, but notices have been posted at each end of the highway declaring it closed and those using it will do so at their own risk, so far as the town is concerned. If the council desires to reopen it and stand the expense of keeping it in repair, thus making it a county road, the Campbell board will have no objection. Otherwise the land used for the roadway will revert to Hi Goddard, G. Schroeder and V. S. Keppel, former owners.

North siders are aroused over the action and declare they will petition the county board of supervisors to reopen the road under county approval and protection.

DESTROY THE CAUSE.

You Cannot Cure Dandruff Without Destroying the Cause of It.

Many people wash their scalps Saturday night or Sunday to try to keep the dandruff down for the week, but on Monday night the scalp has begun to itch, and Tuesday morning will find a good supply of dandruff when the hair is brushed. There is but one real scientific way of curing dandruff; and that is to kill the germ that causes it, and falling hair and finally baldness. There is only one preparation that will destroy the germ, and that is Newbro's Herpicide. It is an entirely new discovery and the only hair preparation that is based on the new scientific principle. In addition Herpicide is a very refreshing hair dressing for regular toilet use. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. OWEN MORAN

(By Haskell.)

In the days of long ago foreign pugilists were considered pretty good men in the ring, and even in later years when Squire Abbington was the backer of Charley Mitchell there were persons who believed England's boxers were superior to those produced in this country. But they were not. Of course Australia sent over some mighty good men, some of whom later became Americans and fought under American colors. But so far as is known, no Britisher ever sent to the United States to do battle compared with Jim Driscoll, the little foreigner now here. And then, too, there is Owen Moran, another clever boy now here from England.

CLAIMS HE WAS JOBBED TO FIGHT

Friends of Gross, the Onalaska pugilist, who gave up the fight against Murphy of Minneapolis on French Island the other night, after putting up four rounds, says he was "jobbed" into taking on the fight by an Onalaskan whom he had "put it over." They say Gross admitted he was out of condition, but agreed to fight, so as not to disappoint the fans. Gross put up a good fight, friends say, and can put it ver the imported Murphy, when he gets into shape.

He was one of the best known men on the north side and was for eight years transfer agent at the Burlington. His mind had become deranged by sorrow brought on by the death of two small sons of diphtheria. Mr. Halseth was born in Norway and has lived in La Crosse ever since his arrival in this country thirty years ago. He is survived by his widow and eight children, Arthur, Edward, George, Russell, Gust, Oscar, Mabel and Ruth, all of whom reside in the city.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon from the Charles street Lutheran church and interment will be made in the Oak Grove cemetery.

The association still hopes to get the street fair's $1,000, which has been turned over to the busnness men's association.

REGAINS HEALTH; GOES WITH BROTHER

After being slowly nursed back to health at the county hospital while her five children were county charges, Mrs. Ora Ashley, wife of Leon Ashley, is now preparing to leave the city with her brother who arrived here some time ago from Oklahima, taking with her the five children. Mrs. Ashley claims that her husband has not supported, but neglected his family. He is at present staying at a local boarding house with the oldest child.

If her husband makes an effort to prevent her leaving for the home which her brother promises to provide for her, Mrs. Ashley says she will sue for a divorce on serious charges. She will try to get possession of the oldest child which she claims is in bad company when it is with the father.

GETS JAG; ATTACKS THE CITY MISSION

Louis Schroeder Tuesday took on a cargo of booze and after he had made the rounds of the different saloons he proceeded toward the City Mission against which he imagined he held a grievance. Arriving there he found several others sitting around in the Mission reading and talking, and promptly announced that he was going to "clean out the place."

Charles Phillips, one of the men who happened to be in the Mission when Schroeder came on the war path, swore out a warrant for the disturber. Schroeder will be given a hearing Friday at 10 o'clock.

STUVE ARRESTED; ABUSED PARENTS

Daniel Stuve, was brought before Judge Brindley in the county court yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by his father A. G. Stuve. Stuve besides refusing to work for a living and depending upon his parents for a livelihood, has threatened those at home that he would kill them. The charge preferred by his father is that about election time last November, Daniel Stuve attacked him and badly choked and beat him.

Stuve will be given an examination next Wednesday at 10 o'clock. The authorities expect he will get a sentence of about three years at Green Bay if found guilty.

Mr. Beyschlag

The well known druggist of 503 Main street said to one of our reporters the other day: "I carry in stock about 40 to 50 different kinds of cough remedies. Most all are fair sellers, and yet I am selling each day more of Gray's Yerba Santa, than all the others put together. But then Gray's Yerba Santa is such a remarkable success as a cough cure, that I'm making a permanent customer out of every buyer of the first bottle. I've got a bonanza in Gray's Yerba Santa Cough Cure, and if properly developed could make a fortune out of it. As it is, I am bringing it before the people of our city through local advertising, as this is the only means of letting them know, that I've got the best thing in the way of a cough cure, that they possibly can get. My sales are increasing greatly from year to year, for if you have a good thing backed by proper advertising, you're bound to win."

OPENS SERIES OF LECTURES HERE

The first of a series of meetings to be held in the city by Charles M. Ellinwood was held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening. Mr. Ellinwood is from Chicago and has a reputation of being one of the best speakers for boys and young men in this part of the country. It is expected that a good attendance will be present at the remaining meetings because of the good impression made on his hearers at the first meeting.

Mr. Ellinwood last evening read I Kings 18-30 which tells of 3 years drought and likened it to the church. There are no fruits, the "land" is barren, due to the indifference of the members was the substance of his sermon.

The Tenderfoot Farmer

It was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

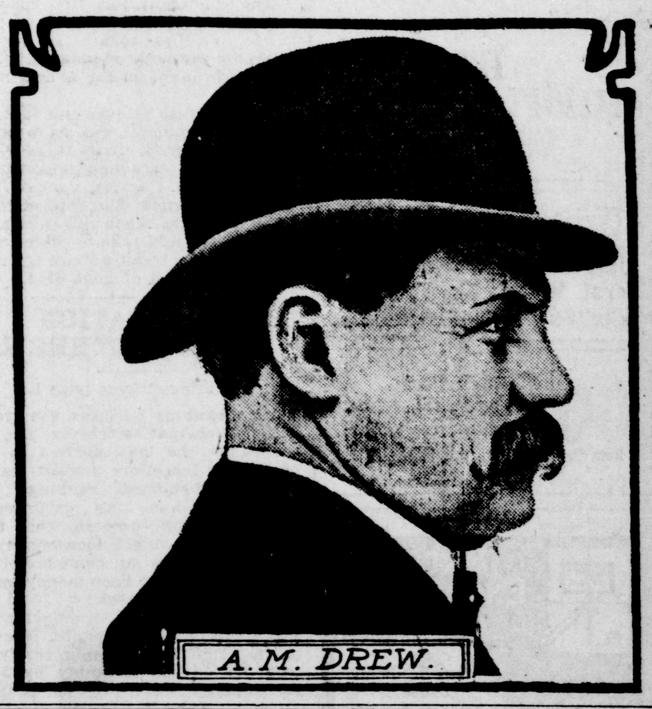

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness.

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.

In the strictest sense "Golden Medical Discovery" is a temperance medicine. It contains neither intoxicants nor narcotics, and is as free from alcohol as from opium, cocaine and other dangerous drugs. All ingredients printed on its outside wrapper.

Don't let a dealer delude you for his own profit. There is no medicine for stomach, liver and blood "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery."

FIRST NAVIGATION ON MISSISSIPPI

STEAMER HIAWATHA MOVES A HALF MILE AT ST. PAUL

SMALL SPACE IS OPEN HERE

But Ice is Not Expected to Leave the River Before Two Weeks from the Present Date

Navigation on the Mississippi for 1909 opened at St. Paul on Monday when the steamer Hiawatha moved for a half mile up stream, following the thaw for the past week. This space, however, is again froze up and there is not expected to be further navigation until some time in March.

At La Crosse navigation of any kind is out of the question yet. There is a small open space below the wagon bridge, but this is noted most all winter and does not indicate the spring break-up. This is not expected for at least two weeks, and it may be a month before the ice leaves the stream, depending upon the severity of the weather during the next month.

Last season the ice left the river at La Crosse March 10th, which is about two weeks from this date. Dates when the ice left the river here for the past eight years follows:

1908	March	-10
1907	March	23
1906	April	4
1905	March	24
1904	March	31
1903	March	9-15
1902	March	9
1901	March	25
1900	April	3

Expect Busy Year.

Great preparations are afoot all along the banks of the upper Mississippi for the pending resumtion of river traffic in the coming spring. The Mars, Davis and Pathfinder, fine old steamboats, each with a long river history, have been in the dry docks at Wabasha most of the winter, being thoroughly overhauled for business the coming season.

These boats belong to Capt. Geo. Winans and will run logs between the St. Paul boom and Prescott, Wis., with some freight business on the side. Other steamers have gone into docks along the river all the way between here and St. Louis to get in trim for the river trade next spring.

River men all up and down the upper Mississippi look upon the opening season with optimism. The probable improvements on the upper Mississippi will probably mean some additions to the river service in the coming season, as river men desire to keep their foothold so that when the improvements are perfected they will be in a position to enjoy and profit by them.

TRANSFERRING THE FOURTEEN UNTRIED NIGHT RIDER PRISONERS AND ED. MARSHALL TO DRESDEN, TENN.

UNION CITY, Tenn., Feb. 25.—The excitement over the recent night rider case is gradually subsiding, though there are still many threats of violence and the many witnesses and attorneys in the case are almost daily in receipt of anonymous and threatening letters. The father of the prosecuting attorney has had to flee the country because the night riders have learned that no threats go with the prosecutor and feel that the only chance to weaken him is to threaten, and possibly carry out their threats, on his father, an aged man, who has been in close touch with the Reelfoot Lake people all his life.

The troops are being gradually withdrawn, and the transfer to Dresden, Tenn., was one of the steps taken last week in order to allow more of the state militia to return home.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Suffragettes of title and the highest social position were today sentenced for from one to two months in jail for the demonstration last night, when an army of suffragettes tried to force an interview with Premier Asquith.

Among those sentenced were Lady Constance Lytton, sister of Lord Lytton, and daughter of the former viceroy of India; Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, Daisy Solomon, daughter of the ex-premier of South Africa.

Today's prisoners were the most fashionable that have yet fallen into the hands of the police but the judge showed leniency and consideration to none. They were elated upon being sent to prison.

FARMERS STARVE CATTLE; ARRESTED

CHRISTINA FERRIS AND JOHN SMITH SUMMONED

HUMANE OFFICER ACTIVE

West Salem Official Called to Scene by Neighbors Swears Out Complaints Today

A complaint was registered today by Human Officer "Judd" Phillips of West Salem against two people, Christina Ferris and John Smith, residents of the town of Farmington, charging them with cruelty to animals. Mr. Phillips has investigated the case and says that they are slowly starving to death a number of cattle and other animals.

The complaint was first made by several neighbors of these people. Officer Phillips today swore out warrants for both offenders and they will be brought in for a hearing on Monday.

The story as told is that last year a similar complaint was made against Christina Ferris. Several neighbors went to the place and remonstrated with her for starving some hogs which she owned. She replied to the effect that she knew what she was doing and would take no instructions from anyone. About a week after this the entire brood of hogs died.

TREASURE FOUND IN OLD SOUTHERN MANSE

DANVILLE, Ky., Feb. 25.—Twenty-two thousand five hundred dollars in confederate money were found by H. S. Hensley and Albert Pawley, the latter an employe of Hensley, under a large hearthstone at the old residence of the late Nathan Ross near Paint Lick, in Garrard county. The rich treasures had been placed there during the guarrilla times of the civil war when Sam Berry, "the one armed," and his gang of cut throats were spreading terror in central Kentucky.

Nathan Ross was one of the richest slave owners in the south and owned a magnificent blue grass estate. H. S. Hensley, who now owns the farm, came there from Harlan county.

The old Ross mansion was being wrecked when the rich find was made, the supposition being that the treasure was placed beneath the hearth by Ross. No evidence to this effect has been established, however,

POPULAR RECIPE

Effective Home-Made Cough Syrup.

Make a plain syrup by taking one pint of Granulated Sugar, add one-half cup of water, stir and let boil just a moment. Put two and one-half ounces of pure Pinex in a pint bottle and fill it up with the Granulated Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Keep well corked and it will never spoil.

The effectiveness of this simple home-made article is surprising. It usually stops a deep-seated cough in twenty-four hours. It is also excellent for colds, whooping cough, pains in the chest, bronchial troubles and similar ailments.

Use the real Pinex in making it, however. It is the most valuable, concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract, and it is far superior to the numerous pine oil and pine tar preparations. If your druggist does not have it, he can get it for you without trouble.

The proportion above suggested makes a full pint of the best cold and cough remedy. The taste is very pleasant. The total cost is about 54 cents.

PLAN OUT FOR BIJOU MINSTREL

"I Used to Be Afraid to Go Home in the Dark, But Now I'm Afaid to Go Home at All."

This and many other new song hits which have not been heard in La Crosse before will be sung at the minstrel show which will be given at the Bijou as a part of the usual evening program Friday, March 5th. Walter Goetzinger who has charge of the staging of the show and who originated the idea of having a minstrel act in a Bijou theatre has received the spiciest, catchiest and newest bunch of coon songs and ragtimes that has ever been sunk in the city and he proposes to make the minstrels show one in which the musical hits will be the chief feature.

Mr. Goetzinger has written a song called, "My Esquimo," which has immensely pleased all who have yet heard it. It is something entirely new in its line and will be sung in the minstrel by H. Marden.

The cast is follows: B. McLinden and J. Felzer, end men; R. Russell, H. Marden and M. Kerr, soloists; J. Weihaupt, J. Brenner, R. Davis, W. Owens, K. Egan, V. Marsh, Ed Conway, D. Gale and H. West, chorus; Wm. Friese, interlocutor.

The songs follow: Opening chorus, "Medley of Coon Songs;" "Honey Land," sung by B. McLinden; "I Used to be Afraid to go Home in the Dark, etc.," by J. Felzer; "Oh, You Coon," sung by M. Kerr; "Time, Place and the Girl," ballad sung by R. Russell; "When You Marry Me," by quartette; "My Esquimo," by H. Marden; "Kiss Your Minstrel Boy Good Bye;" Finale by entire company.

ELDER COOPER IS HOT ON THE STAND

EXPLAINS THREAT AGAINST SENATOR CARMACK

LATTER CARRIED A PISTOL

Had Been Armed for Several Days Before the Fatal Shooting Occurred

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 25.—Showing fight when pressed too closely by the prosecution, Col. Duncan Cooper, charged jointly with Robin Cooper and John D. Sharp with the murder of ex-senator Edward W. Carmarck, underwent a long siege on the witness stand today at the hands of his prosecutors.

Riled Over Personal Record

Col. Cooper became exceedingly angry over the constant repetitions by Attorney General Fitzhugh of his failures in business.

"I know I have not been a success in business," he remarked testily, "and I have on occasions been compelled to take advantage of the bankruptcy law. But while you are bringing out all of the bad things I have done I think you should know some of the good ones. Why, only a short time ago I collected $1,050 rental from my farm and gave it to an old confederate soldier, Frank Anderson, who was in destitute circumstances. I have never mentioned this before."

"But while you were holding a $6,000 position in Donduras, you gave an order for $2,000 to E. B. Craig and then defaulted on it, did you not?" demanded Fitzhugh.

"I did not pay because I did not have it," was the reply.

What He Meant.

"What I meant by saying to Senator in my message that "If my name is used again in the Tennesseean the town wont be big enough to hold us both' was that if he did not quit I would make public certain private and public acts of his with which I am acquainted, and that I would would fake it so hot for him that he could not stay in Nashville."

Carmack Was Armed.

The defense announced today that they will prove that Senator Carmack was armed for 24 hours before he was killed. There has been much mystery surrounding the manner in which he got his pistol and the story generally credited was that it was forced on him by one of the Tennesseean reporters just before he left that office to go home the afternoon he was killed.

It developed today that the pistol he carried was given to him by Maj. W. C. Vertress, a prominent local attorney, the Sunday night before the killing. This was just after the conference with E. B. Craig through whom Col. Cooper sent the message that if his name were again used in the Tennesseean, the "town would not be big enough to hold both."

Major Vertress is to be called as a witness.

HIGHEST OIL FINE LESS THAN MILLION

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Federal Judge A. B. Anderson, presiding at the retrial of the $29,000,000 Standard Oil case, at noon today indicated that he would rule that the Standard Oil company cannot be convicted of more than 36 offenses of rebating under the indictment on which it is to be tried. He indicated his belief that the number of offenses might be shown to be fewer than 36 but not more than that number.

The court announced that this was only his opinion of the case with his present light and added that he would not be bound by this opinion if evidence should develop during the trial to make him change his mind. If the court finally rules as he indicated he would, the Standard Oil company cannot be fined more than $720,000 at the outside. This appears to knock out the government's contention that a $10,000,000 fine might be assessed.

"BABY DOLL" IS NOW A JAILBIRD

JUDGE REFUSES TO TOLERATE HER BY CONTINUED FINES

QUINN WOMAN MUST OBEY

Court Decides if She Has No Regard for Public Morals a Jail Term is All That Will Help

"I don't mind paying twelve and a half," confided Dolly Quinn while being escorted by an officer to the county court. "It's about time I was paying a fine anyway."

Dolly Quinn, who don't go much on morality, was arrested yesterday for loitering around the streets and salons and other places where intoxicating liquors are sold. She has been in court before and seemed confident that she would be let off with a fine. She was a very surprised Dolly, however, when Judge Brindley sentenced her to thirty days in the county jail.

"Can't I pay a fine, Judge?" she pleaded, but the judge was obdurate and Dolly was led off to the bastile.

It has been a custom hitherto to fine immoral women and they did not hesitate to go out and immediately begin operations again. Dolly Quinn evidently expected to be let off with the customary fine as she had the money and was ready to pay whatever the judge might levy upon her.

GORDON GOT $1,600 OF STEPHENSON FUND

paid $600 because he wrote Edmonds it would take that amount to "organize" the county.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—It was disclosed in E. A. Edmonds' testimony before the senatorial investigation committee today that Speaker L. M. Bancroft of the assembly received $250 to use in furthering the Stephenson campaign last summer. Immediately after the noon recess a subpoena was served on Bancroft, and he probably will be a witness tomorrow.

Blaine Balks

Senator Blaine, for the moment at least, checkmated the plans of the assembly of the committee to make him give away his case. A subpoena was issued last night directing him to appear at 9 o'clock Friday morning ,bringing all his documentary evidence which he had declined to produce in the committee yesterday. This subpoena was returned to the desk of the sargeant at arms this morning with the note, "Refusal of service by Mr. Blaine." It is presumed this is notice that Senator Blaine will claim his legislative privilege, and it is now up to the committee to determine whether he can thus secure immunity from a subpoena.

Usher Adv. Agent

An interesting bit of information was brought out in the testimony of Chairman Edmonds, to the effect that Ellis B. Usher, formerly publisher of the La Crosse Chronicle and one of the most widely known newspaper men in the northwest, had handled the display advertising campaign of Mr. Stephenson. Edmonds said Mr. Usher was a believer in advertising, and even used democratic newspapers. The advertising went out of Milwaukee in the envelopes of a well known advertising agency, and it had been popularly supposed that it was placed directly with this firm by Edmond or Stephenson. Mr. Usher may be called to the stand later.

To Call Candidates

In order that the campaign managers of all the senatorial candidates at the primary election last fall may have an opportunity to tell who got the money they disbursed, the legislative senatorial investigation committee today decided after a long discussion to subpoena them. The senate members of the committee opposed this action, because the campaign managers of Stephenson have been examined and it is not charged that the other candidtes spent money corruptly.

E. A. Edmonds,chairman of the republican state central committee, was again on the stand most of today, detailing how Stephenson's managers distributed $107,000.

Some of the Boys

Some of the interesting items in the detailed account made up by R. H. Sackett and J. H. Puelicher follow, separate amounts being noted as they occur in the account.

Henry Overback, $100, $71.79.

C. C. Wellensgard, Green Lake assemblyman, $250.80.

T. J. Sexton, assistant fire marshall, $60.30, $42.46, $50, $50, $50.

J. T. Sexton, 50.

L. H. Stevens, $200, $300, $82.92.

H. H. Morgan, Dane county, $73, $226.

M. C. Ring, Neillsville, $125, $350, $170.

E. H. McMahon, noted U. of W. orator, $300, $50, $50, $50, $550.

Rock Flint, U. S. marshal at Madison, $80.

Hugh Lewis, Madison, doorkeeper U. S. senate, $160, $200.

F. P. Lamoreaux, $25.

T. Purtell, presumably state fire marshal, $175.

A. R. Ames, Dane county, $350, $50, $50.

GEORGE GORDON, LA CROSSE, $1,600.

C. H. Russell, Berlin, defeated republican candidate for congress against John M. Nelson, $200, $350.

J. J. McGillivray, former state senator, $600.

T. F. Reynolds, assemblyman Door county, $100.

L. H. Bancroft, $250.

David Atwood, Janesville editor, $100.

R. S. Cowie, Trempealeau county, Ekern's district, $150.

Trempealeau county, cash E. A. E., (Edmonds), $375.

L. E. McGill, ex-state assemblyman, $250.

L. H. Thayer, ex-state senator, $600.

Dane county, no names, $200.

John C. Miller, defeated candidate for chief clerk of assembly, $300, $50, $25.

D. E. Riordan, ex-state senator, $1,300.

J. W. Stone, state game warden, cash $2,500.

Solon L. Perrin, $3,000, $1,000.

There are many such entries as "Touch by old soldiers, $2," "Touch by Lesser Lights, $2," "Touches by Heelers, $2," "A trip through the Ghetto" (Milwaukee) by three men cost $35."

Interest in Statement

The filing of this statement by Sackett created considerable interest, as it includes men widely known in the political affairs of the state. Perhaps the item of $250 to Speaker Bancroft occasioned most comment, but the mention of the names of many others created surprise about the capitol, where the sentiment is becoming fixed that Senator Stephenson is in a hole.

Considerable interest was caused by the statement of chairman Marsh that he had confidence in the honesty of the legislature, and that he believed there would be no election of a United States senator until the probe was completed.

Morris Outlines Purposes

Senator Morris added that he believed it was the most logical proceedure to finish the investigation of the Stephenson campaign, in order that the election of a United Senator might proceed. "The question is whether the corrupt practices are has been violated, "and not whether all the candidates have been guilty, but whether any one of them has been guilty," he said.

Edmonds Elusive

The "clean breast" which Edmonds was supopsed to make today proved a joke. His memory was of the "convenient" sort, and he balked all attempts of Senator Morris to secure from him definite information as to the manner in which money was spent after it was paid out to him for "organizing."

GETS $500 FROM N. STERN ESTATE

A claim for services amounting in all to $1,225.00 brought against the estate of Nathan Stern by Johanna Hoffman is being contested before Judge O'Neill in the circuit court today. The case was to have been called this morning but had to be postponed until two o'clock this afternoon because some of the parties concerned were unprepared.

Miss Hoffman's claim includes a bill for board amounting to $5.00 a bill for taking care of a room occupied by the deceased for about $20, a bill for curtain stretching of about $13, and bills for nursing the deceased Nathan Stern when he was ill, aggregating about $1100.00.

The jury this afternoon returned a verdict in facor of the plaintiff, giving her a judgement for $600. She was represented by Paul W. Mahoney.

FACTS ABOUT THE CROUP

THE FIRST SYMPTOMS AND TREATMENT.

Some Interesting Information for Young Mothers---How to Guard Against the Disease.

The great danger from croup is fully realized by most mothers of young children. There are many, however, who do not know that an attack of croup may be prevented by proper treatment as soon as the first symptoms appear. The first indication of an attack of croup is hoarseness. The child becomes quite hoarse; this is followed by a rough cough that has something of a metallic sound and has been compared to the crowing of a cock. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to the printed directions with each bottle as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, and it will prevent the attack. It is, in fact, a certain cure for croup, and has never been known to fail, but it is better and safer to give the remedy before the attack of croup is fully developed. It then saves suffering for the child and anxiety for its parents. There is no danger in giving this remedy freely, as it contains no opium or other narcotic. It is the standby and sole reliance in many thousands of homes and never disappoints those who depend upon it. There are women who took this remedy in childhood, now giving it to their grandchildren, and with the same uniform success. It always cures and is pleasant to take.

TAX ON CREDITS MEASURE PASSES

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 25.—The house took up nearly all of its time Wednesday morning in an argument over the Stuart bill, exempting mortgages and other credits from taxation. The bill was reported to pass by the tax committee, but a minority report, signed by Representative Nolan, Thayer, Haugland, Davis, Rustad, recommended it for indefinite postponement. Mr. Nolan moved the adoption of the minority report. This was defeated by a vote of 50 to 65 and the bill placed on general orders.

"This bill takes from the tax rolls $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 at a time when the demands for the appropriations are heavy and we cannot afford to decrease the revenues," said Nolan, in defending his minority report.

BABE IN SUIT CASE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 25.—Hearing a faint squeak coming, apparently from the inside of a suit case which Dr. W. C. Van Damme had just left in the saloon, Carl Thorsen, barkeeper at the Blue Ribbon, 111 Washington avenue south, Minneapolis, this afternoon made haste to open it and much to his astonishment, found a tiny baby boy, less than twelve hours old.

He telephoned the police and the baby was hurried to the city hospital, where it is said that he will live.

Van Damme was arrested and is awaiting a hearing.

DEUSTER COMPANY WINS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 25.—Judge Halsey yesterday entered a judgment of $41,620.66 against Gordon A. Ramsey, agent of A. C. Frost, of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric railroad, in favor of the P. V. Deuster company.

The court gave the Deuster company first lien on a piece of property on Second street, between Grand avenue and Wells street, to satisfy the claim, in the face of a claim of $93,181.96 of George Rockwell and one of 1$72,462.78 of the Metropolitan Trust and Savings bank, Chicago.

PLEA OF GUILTY BARRED

STILLWATER, Minn., Feb. 25.—John Conoly, alleged New York crook, was not permitted to plead guilty to a forgery charge this morning. It was stated that there are complications which may result in the reference of the case going to the grand jury in May. Conoly, who is suspected of complicity in a murder in the east, was disappointed at the turn of affairs as he wanted the case here disposed of at once.

EXPERIMENTAL FOREST

Lumbermen near Cloquet offer to give the state 2,200 acres on condition that they may take off the timber. It is also proposed that, to make a complete tract, the state buy 480 acres in addition.

IN THE NATION'S CAPITOL

former law partner, and the senator left his seat to speak to Mr. Roe at the door. At the time there were just three democratic senators in the chamber. When Senator La Follette arose the clerk was reading an Indian bill, one regulating the liquor traffic on Indian reservations. Senator Kean was on his feet. Senator Aldrich was out of his regular seat and sat well to the front handy to the clerk's desk. Senator Long was out of his seat and occupied a seat a little to the left of the center upon the republican side. He was just in front of Senator Lodge. Senator Long followed the movements of Senator La Follette very closely, and observed to follow with his eye Senator La oFllette as he walked around the rear of the chamber back of the democratic seats, back of the republican seats and through the front door of the senate marble room. As Mr La Follette's back was to Senator Long he motioned to Senator Lodge with his hand as much as to say "Get up." The door had hardly closed on La Follette when someone, either Lodge or Kean, objected to the reading of the bill and the vice president very hurriedly let it go over. Then Mr. Aldrich fairly jumped with his little resolution, and in much less time than it takes to tell what occurred, this drastic resolution unprecedented under similar conditions in the history of legislative bodies had passed the United States senate.

The senators were taken completely by surprise. It is doubtful if any one on the democratic side knew what had been done or had any appreciation of the effect of the resolution. Of course, those on the republican side who were present knew exactly what had been done and why it had been done. It was an attempt to forestall the progressive senators in the fight which it is understood they will make for a reorganization of the senate committees. That resolution is sure to make trouble. The end of it has not been heard. It will bob up again.

It is the custom at the close of a session of congress to pass in the senate a resolution continuing the committees of that body until the next session of congress or until their successors are elected. This resolution is usually passed the last day of the sesion When congress knows that an extra session is to be called, the form of the reolution has in the past been different than that which was offered in the Aldrich resolution of Monday. It is to the effect that the committees shall be continued until their successors are elected.

In 1897 a special session of congress was called to meet March 15 just as one is called to meet this year. At that time Senator Allison offered a resolution and it was in the form which prescribed that the committees should be continued until their successors be elected. It did not attempt to forestall the reorganization of the committees during the special session. The Aldrich resolution by insertion of the words "shall be continued until the next regular session" attempts to forestall any reorganization of the committees of the senate at the special session which will meet March 15. Eleven members of the present senate will not be members of the senate which meets March 15. Senator Long of Kansas is one of them. Senator Heminway of Indiana is another. And yet these men voted to continue the committees of the present organization through a congress of which they will not be members.

The progressives do not intend to lie quietly under this made-to-order organization of the new senate. The movements on the part of the reactionaries to take a snap judgment upon them has caused a smile and has given them greater confidence than they have had previously. Nothing which has been done so demonstrate the fear of the old organization that its power is to slip away from it. The only way that they can account for this carefully planned coup de tat is because of the fear of Aldrich, Lodge, Hale, Gallinger and all of the monopoly brood that the progressives will be able to swing the sentiment of this country so as to compel every organization of the committees.

WIFE SHOOTS "LOVE PIRATE" IN HAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.—Mrs. James W. Cochrane, wife of a millionaire attorney and realty man, was released on bail furnished by her husband early Wednesday following a scene in a downtown restaurant last night in which Mrs. Cochrane shot Mrs. L. K. Emery through the hand.

Mrs. Emery is James W. Cochrane's stenographer. The couple went to the restaurant early in the evening and were followed by Mrs. Cochrane in an automobile. Entering the restaurant, the enraged woman drew a revolver and opened fire on Mrs. Emery, one bullet passing through the stenographer's hand.

Cochrane grappled with hs wfe and succeeded in taking the revolver from her.

Mrs. Emery was taken to a hospital and Mrs. Cochrane was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Her husband furnished bond for her release this morning.

GIRL DRUGGED AND CARRIED TO HOTEL

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Another abduction mystery resembling that of Miss Ella Gingles, who was found stabbed, bound and gagged in the Wellington hotel, was given to the police here for resolution when Miss McInrue, 19, reported that she had been held up by two men, overpowered with a drug, and taken to a North Side hotel, where she was held prisoner.

The girl said she recovered from the drug after she had been in the hotel for several hours. Finding herself alone she escaped and reported the matter to the police. The police are searching for her assailants in the belief that their capture might throw some light on the Gingles case.

GRAFTER BAND IS BROKEN UP

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 25.—Federal officers who caused the arrest of J. C. Maybray and three others for misuse of the mails say they have broken up a gang who operated in all parts of the United States, and who secured $500,000 through the operation of their swindling schemes.

The men are said to have "promoted" fake wrestling matches and foot and horse races. In the effects of the men the authorities say they found a record of agents in all parts of the country, as well as correspondence from men who had been victimized.

HIT THE SPOT
Postum Knocked Out Coffee Ails.

There's a good deal of satisfaction and comfort in hitting upon the right thing to rid one of the varied and constant ailments caused by coffee drinking.

"Ever since I can remember," writes an Ind. woman, "my father has been a lover of his coffee, but the continued use of it so affected his stomach that he could scarcely eat at times.

"Mother had coffee-headache and dizziness, and if I drank coffee for breakfast I would taste it all day and usually go to bed with a headache.

"One day father brought home a pkg. of Postum recommended by our grocer. Mother made it according to directions on the box and it just 'hit the spot.' It has a dark seal-brown color, changing to golden brown when cream is added, and a snappy taste similar to mild high-grade coffee, and we found that its continued use speedily put an end to all our coffee ills.

"That was at least ten years ago and Postum has, from that day to this, been a standing order of father's grocery bill.

"When I married, my husband was a great coffee drinker, although he admitted that it hurt him. When I mentioned Postum he said he did not like the taste of it. I told him I could make it taste all right. He smiled and said, try it. The result was a success, he wont have anything but Postum." "There's a Reason."

SEEK BANDITS WHO ROBBED EXPRESS CO.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Feb. 25.—Officers today are seeking a gang of robbers who broke into the office of the Wells-Fargo Express company in the Santa Fe station, killed Jesse Haymaker, night agent, and blew open the safe. Earlier in the night the up-town office was robbed. It is believed the same men rifler both offices.

PRESIDENT WILL RECEIVE $75,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—After defeating the proposition to make the president's salary $100,000 Wednesday afternoon the house adopted an aendment fixing it at $75,000. The amendment was offered by Representative Watson (R., Ind.)

Former Attorney Gen. Moody was once riding on the platform of a Boston street car standing next to the gate that protected passengers from cars coming on the other track. A Boston lady came to the door of the car, and as it stopped started toward the gate, which was hidden from her by the men standing before it.

"Other side, please, lady," said the conductor.

He was ignored as only a born and bred Bostonian can ignore a man. The lady took another step toward the gate.

"You must get off on this side," said the conductor. "I wish to get off on this side," came the answer, in tones that congealed the official into momentary silence. Before he could explain or expostulate Mr. Moody came to his assistance. "Stand to one side, gentlemen," he remarked. "The lady wishes to climb over the gate."—Gunther's Magazine.

SHUBERTS LIKELY TO START FIGHT

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—That the Shuberts are again threatening to attack the Klaw & Erlanger theatrical trust was revealed today when it became known that they had taken over control of 63 "one night stands" theaters in the middle west, constituting an essential link in all the routings of plays on the road.

This coup gives the Shuberts power to control almost absolutely the bookings of the road companies The theaters involved are those in the Chamberlain-Harrington circuit extending through Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. Practically all of the big New York companies use these theaters as the connecting links between the east and west and their use is regarded as essential to the success of any road play.

"Well, did he pay you?" asked the wife of a dentist who had been to collect a bill for a full set of false teeth that he had made for a man almost a year before.

"Pay me!" growled the dentist. "Not only did he refuse to pay me, but he actually had the effrontery to gnash at me—with my teeth!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Et Cetra and So On

He is a poor little neglected boy, whose mamma is so busy with mother's meetings and club conventions and such important matters that she really hsan't time to attend to her children. This little boy was entertaining a casual caller while his mother was upstairs putting the finishing touches to her toilet. Said the little boy, whose own toilet was saidly in need of attention:

"What does e. t. c. mean?"

E. t. c.?" asked the caller.

"Yes," said the little boy, it's a sort of a word, it's in a book I was reading."

"Oh," said the caller, "Etc. is an abbreviation. It is Latin, It stands for et cetera."

The little boy looked puzzled. "I'm not in Latin yet," he said.

"Et cetera," explained the caller, "means—well, it means' and so on.'"

The little boy was thoughtful for a moment, and then he said:

"I wish my mamma could find time to et cetera the buttons on my pants!"

And, taking in his disheveled appearance, the visitor murmured: "Amen."—New York Times.

He "Thinked" Right

Prof. George Porter, principal of the Hallsville schools, has continually told the pupils that they should think twice before they speak. One cold morning last week Prof. Porter backed up to the stove, after having given expression to his famous adage, when a little boy on the front seat, after having been given permission to talk said:

"Prof. Porter, I've thinked once."

"Think again," he replied.

"I've thinked twice," said the youngster.

"Then speak."

"Yes, sir, I thinked your coat tail was a scorchin,' now I think it is ablaze," replied the obedient urchin.—Halisville (Ga.) News.

DAILY MARKETS

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—There was another selling wave at the opening speculative issues. The copper stocks showed the greatest weakness. Amalgamated and Anaconda lost 7-8 and Smelting yielded 1 1-4. The steel stocks were heavy, steel common falling 3-4 and the preferred 1-2. The weakiness in these extended all around the room, many of the high priced railroads being pressed for sale from the start. Union Pacific lost nearly a point while Southern Pacific rallied half. Other railroad stocks generally declined about half.

A general downward movement was in progress at the end of fifteen minutes.

11 a. m.—The market was under renewed and pronounced pressure all through the first hour. London sold about 10,000 Amalgamated, making that stock weak and this foreign selling was followed by the appearance of many local liquidating orders, the execution of which carried the price down to 67 1-4, a decline of over three points. Anaconda lost points and Smelting fell 2 1-2 points. Reading yielded over 2 points on reports that operations in the anthracite districts will be suspended at the end of the week. The steel stocks also were lower, common and preferred losing about 1 7-8 points. The Harriman stocks after holding steady for a short time gave way with the rest of the list.

Government bonds unchanged; others firm.

Noon—Shortly after the end of the first hour heavy selling appeared which was most pronounced in the coper shares and Reading, those stocks declining sharply to a range 3 to 4 points below yesterday's close. The downward movement extended to many other issues, but just before noon buying orders caused a quick rally of about a point. Around noon, the market had a firm tone.

The stock market closed heavy and weak.

Chicago Grain.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 25.—July wheat again held public interest today, selling at the highest point of the crop year. May wheat was inclined to drag both here and at other markets. Some selling of May was presumably participated in by leading longs. The significant feature of the day was the new and scattered demand for July from abroad, chiefly continental.

Corn sustained a good all around advance.

FRED W. CARPENTER A "FUTURE GREAT"

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—Fred W. Carpenter, private secretary to William H. Taft, who according to custom with respect to private secretaries to presidents, will become on March 4 listed among the "future greats" in American politics, is a western boy, a native of Minnesota, as well as educationally a product of the university of the gopher state. He is a nephew of the late United States Senator Matt Carpenter of Wisconsin, and has relatives living in Madison, Janesville and Milwaukee. His parents when a boy, returning years kee.

Mr. Carpenter was born in Minnesota, but went to California with his later to complete his education. After finishing at the university he returned to California, was there admitted to the bar, determined to enter upon the practice of law, but fell into a clerkship that took him to the Philippines. Just at that time, 1898 Judge W. H. Taft of Ohio was going through California on his way to take up his duties as governor general of the Philippines. Carpenter became clerk under Governor Taft, but showed such ability as to be promoted rapidly until he became the governor's private secretary. He continued in the capacity of personal secretary to Mr. Taft, while the latter was secretary of war, and now follows him into the presidential office. Wisconsin Minnesota and California will claim credit for producing this man, but to Minnesota naturally belongs most of the honor.

CROOKS ACTIVE; GOOD PEOPLE APATHETIC

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 25.—Good citizens of Detroit have heard from the lips of Jos. W. Folk, former governor of Missouri, that if the nation crumbles it will be through their ennui.

Speaking here on the "Era of Conscience" Gov. Folk said that it is the pernicious interests that are active while the good citizens are only passive.

"There is more aggressive rottenness," he said, "and less aggressive patriotism in all large cities than any where else. If the patriotism could be made as aggressive as the rottenness, the problem of good municipal government would be solved.

"Reforms sometimes die, but revolutions never go backward, and a revolution has been wrought in the conscience of men."

BILL SYSTEMATIZES POLICE OF STATE

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—Despite interest attendant upon the senatorial investigating committee's work yesterday afternoon, members of the senate and assembly working committee got down to hard work and took action on several bills. The result will be that on Saturady the legislature may look back upon a work of considerable advance.

The police of every city in Wisconsin will be interested in bill 37A which was recommended for passage yesterday designed to improve the police service of smaller cities so that their departments may become a part of the comprehensive system being organized in Wisconsin for the detection of criminals.

NOTHING WRONG IN INSURANCE OFFICE

DISCHARGED EMPLOYEES CLAIM "SOUR GRAPES" AFFAIR

NO "EXPOSURES" EXPECTED

Committee Appointed to Look Into The Matter; Cannot Go Back of Terms of 1899

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—Senator E. T. Fairchild of Milwaukee and Assemblyman M. J. Cleary of Lafayette county have been named as the legislators to carry out the provisions of the governor's special message asking that M. W. Waite's charges against Insurance Commissioner Beedle and the insurance department be investigated by the legislature.

With the beginning of work on what Mr. Waite promised would be a startling expose of methods in vogue in the insurance department comes the information that the probe will not disclose any extremely startling conditions. It is said even that enough of an inquiry has been made to discount in large measure the charges of the former deputy who made his accusations after losing his position in the capitol.

Can't Go Back of 1899.

Much to the annoyance of the members of the legislature who sought to recover fees supposed to have been illegally retained by former insurance commissioners since 1878, it has been discovered that a law was passed in 1905 that barred collection on the part of the state prior to 1899 The state treasurer sought to have the attorney general begin action against all seven insurance commissioners who have served the state for the collection of fees retained by them. While the attorney general declined to start the suit until a legislative investigation had beenh ad, it has since been discovered that actions can be maintained only against Emil Giljohann, Zeno M. Host, and George E. Beedle, who have served within the ten-year period.

BILL TO FORCE TUBERCULINE TEST

(Fred L. Holmes.)

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special.) — Assemblyman Otto Onstad has found data to support the law introduced by him, to require that all cows the milk from which is sold shall be tested, in the report made by the state veterinarian to the live stock sanitary board yesterday. This report shows that from Dec. 16 to Feb. 24, 12,267 cows were tested for tuberculosis in the state of Wisconsin and 1,107 were found to be diseased.

These tests have been carried on in practically every county of the state. In Dane county 2,795 cows were tested and a reaction indicating tuberculosis was shown by 527; of the 74 tested in Racine county a reaction was shown in 38 cases; of 562 tested in La Crosse county 28 were diseased; 39 tested in Eau Claire county with five diseased; of 164 tested in Douglas county four were diseased and of 2,113 tested in Waukesha county 139 were found to be infected. The report shows the number tested in every county of the state.

To compel the testing of all cattle Assemblyman Onstad has introduced a bill providing that "it shall be unlawful for any person in the state of Wisconsin to sell milk or products of the same for food purposes unless from cows that have within one year been tuberculin tested by some party legally authorized to apply such test and unless such cow or cows have been found free from the disease."

WANTS $5,000 FOR SEATTLE BUILDING

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—(Special.)—Shall Wisconsin be represented at the Alaska-Yukon Pacific exposition at Seattle this coming summer? That is the question that is being debated by certain assemblymen. Assemblyman George P. Hambrecht of Grand Rapids says it will be to the lasting shame of the Badger state if she is not represented in the country that has been developed largely by Wisconsin people His bill was last night referred to the claims committee, which will be asked to recommend a $50,000 appropriation. This sum would pay for a Wisconsin building and other displays.

AID FOR STATE FAIR

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 25.—That Wisconsin is far below other states in making appropriations for state fair purposes was shown today, when the bill of Assemblyman G. G. Brew of Milwaukee, calling for an appropriation of $250,000 for the next three years, came up for a hearing before the committee on state fairs.

Within the last four years this state has expended a total of $125,457.03, as follows: In 1905, $58,457.03 and in 1907, $67,000. This is less than Iowa spent in two years and below the average in other states.

SOCIALISTS SEEK ARUAJO'S FREEDOM

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 25.—Antonio P. Aruajo, sentenced to a term in the United States prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, will go free if the socialists can get his liberty.

GREEKS TO PROTEST TO UNCLE SAM

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—That strong representations will be made to the United States government by the government of Greece regarding the recent anti-Greek riots in South Omaha, Neb., was revealed when it was announced that Milward Adams, Greek consul here, is investigating the affair.

It is expected that the incident will arouse influential Greeks all over the country to demand that the federal government take some action and if necessary afford the protection of United States soldiers to their fellow countrymen.

Just what further steps Mr. Adams will take is not known.

There should be a law to the effect that, when a man has more than one visitor a month at his house, the police should step in and protect him.
